

Green News You Can Use is Green Umbrella's bi-weekly e-newsletter. It is published every other Wednesday and sent to over 7,000 contacts. Recipients are our members and donors, and those in the general public interested in the sustainability efforts taking place in the Greater Cincinnati region.

The content featured in the newsletter is compiled by Green Umbrella staff and includes:

- Spotlights about our collaborative sustainability efforts
- News articles relevant to our region's sustainability progress and goals
- Upcoming events hosted by our members
- Professional development opportunities
- Volunteer and job opportunities with our members

As a benefit of membership, Green Umbrella members are invited to submit their events, volunteer and job opportunities, grant opportunities, news articles, photos, interviews and success stories for us to share with the broader sustainability community.

Content can be submitted via email to greennews@greenumbrella.org. We encourage our members to add that email address to their distribution list as a passive way for us to stay updated, enabling us to select content to feature on our website, social media channels and newsletter.

Submitted content should meet the following criteria:

- Directly involves one or more Green Umbrella members
- Is relevant to Green Umbrella's mission, vision and core values
- Highlights sustainability efforts or professional opportunities in Green Umbrella's 10-county footprint (Southwest Ohio, Northern Kentucky and Southeast Indiana)
